

ENGL223G : British Literature to 1800

A survey of the major works of British literature from its Anglo-Saxon origins to 1800 in their cultural, social, historical, political, and literary contexts. The course will also provide students with practice using the critical tools and vocabulary required for the study of literature.

Credits 3

Theory Hours 3

Lab Hours 0

Prerequisites

ENGL110G or ENGL111G or equivalent

Semester Offered

Spring semester

Notes

(Fulfills English or Humanities requirement.)